

Five Common 1st-Time Homebuyer Mistakes

1. Buyers don't ask enough questions of their lender and don't shop around enough for the best deal.
2. Buyers don't act quickly enough to make a decision and someone else buys the house.
3. Buyers don't find the right agent who's willing to help them through the home buying process.
4. Buyers don't do enough to make their offer look appealing to a seller.
5. Buyers don't think about resale before they buy. The average first-time buyer only stays in a home for four years.
